CARLISE'S WARNING.

Scores the Free Silverites in His Memphis "Sound Money" Talk.

CUT WAGES; OBSTRUCT TRADE.

Such, He Says, Would Be the Result of the 16 to 1 Proposition.

WHAT IS DOUBLE STANDARD?

"You Cannot Have Two Legal Measures for the Same Thing at the Same Time."

MEMPHIS, Tenn., May 23.—This city is full of enthusiastic "sound-money" advocates. The chief card today is the much heralded speech of Secretary of the Treasury John G. Carlisle.

Mr. Carlisle arrived this morning at 5 o'clock by the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and was met at the depot by a committee composed of Congressman Joshua Patterson and Messrs. W. J.
Crawford and W. W. Schofield, who escorted him to his quarters at the Gayoso Hotel.

There at 10 o'clock he received the delegates to the Convention appointed by the different commercial banks of this city, and a number of more distinguished delegates from other Southern points.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock, the Convention met in the auditorium. Five or six hundred delegates from every State in the Union were seated on the lower hall of the structure, when Chairman W. J. Crawford called the Convention to order.

After the usual preliminaries the Secretary of the Treasury was introduced.
Mr. Carlisle said:

"The proposition to revolutionize our monetary system and thus destroy the credit of the Government and people at home and abroad, violate all obligations of all contracts, unsettle all exchange-able values, reduce wages of labor, and seriously obstruct trade of our people among themselves and with the people of other countries, is one which challenges intelligence, patriotism and commercial honor of every man to whom it is addressed. No matter what may be the real purpose and motives of those who make the proposition to legalize free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, these are the consequences involved in their scheme and, in my opinion, cannot be avoided if it should be adopted.

Warning to the South.

"In no part of the country will the consequences of such a policy prove more injurious to the material interests of the people than in the undeveloped and progressive South.

"I do not charge that our fellow-citizens who propose to revolutionize our monetary system really desire to see the business of the country ruined and even injured, but in my opinion, the results would be most disastrous, and, therefore, I appeal to them to carefully review the grounds before it is too late to correct a possible error of judgment and to preserve the importance to themselves and their posterity."

Testing the Wild Law.

It is claimed to be in violation of the Constitution.

The Wild Cumulative Sentence Law, passed by the last Legislature, was before Justice Ingraham, in the Supreme Court Chamber today, on a question of its constitutionality, raised by Lawyer A. M. Miller.

It is claimed the act deprives police justices of the power to pass sentences of confinement in the State Prison for disorderly conduct, and delegates it to the Board of Charities and Correction, which is held to be a violation of the Constitution of the State and of the United States, which vests all judicial power in the courts.

The members of the Board of Charities and Correction are not judicial officers, and the act is unconstitutional.

LOOKS DARK FOR WHITEHEAD.

Miss Berthold Tells an Apparently Straight Story Against Him.

TAKEN ILL ON THE STAND.

During Her Cross-Examination She Grew Exhorted and Almost Fainted Again.

HOWE NURSING A SURPRISE.

When the Defense Begins He Will Summon Some Noted
Witnesses.

The trial of Dr. E. Newton Whitehead was resumed this morning before Judge Allison in Part II. of the Court of General Sessions.

Dr. Whitehead, who was charged with the murder of Miss Berthold, was called to the stand and testified that he had never seen her before the night of the tragedy.

He testified that he had seen her on the night of the tragedy, and that he had been with her at the time she was killed.

He testified that he had been with her at the time she was killed, and that he had been with her at the time she was killed.

He testified that he had been with
her at the time she was killed, and
that he had been with her at the time
she was killed.

He testified that he had been with
her at the time she was killed, and
that he had been with her at the time
she was killed.

HOEBER CHASES A REPORTER.

The Coroner Tried to Assault Him in the Mayor's Office.

Being Unable to Successfully Oppose a Bill Ruffled Him.

Coroner Hoebner made another exhibition of himself in the City Hall this afternoon. A newspaper man, who asked him for information on a subject upon which the Coroner is the only person qualified to speak, was threatened with personal violence.

Hoebner even went so far as to assume an attitude of offense, and was only prevented from attacking the reporter by the intervention of gentlemen who happened to be present.

This took place within twenty feet of Mayor Strong's desk.

Later Hoebner endeavored to attack the reporter in the corridor of the City Hall.

He ran after his intended victim with uplifted cane, but the newspaper man avoided him by making a dignified retreat.

What brought Hoebner to the Mayor's office was the hearing given to the bill which provides that a clerk is to be kept on duty at the Coroner's office all night for the purpose of issuing permits to undertakers for the removal of dead bodies.

Hoebner appeared to argue before the Mayor against the bill. He took the ground that the bill placed in the hands of a clerk the power which rightly belonged to the Coroner. In fact, it was an insult to the dignity of his office.

Coroner Fitzpatrick was on hand also to speak against the bill. The Mayor's office, that he had been misinformed as to the provisions of the bill, and he strongly urged the passage of the measure.

CYRUS W. FIELD ON CANVAS.

Portrait of the Atlantic Cable Projector and His Associates.

Chauncey M. Depew Presented to the Chamber of Commerce.

The presentation of the painting of the Atlantic cable projectors to the Chamber of Commerce by the special committee of the Chamber having it in charge, took place at the rooms of the Chamber this afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock.

There was a large attendance, many ladies being present. Morris K. Jesup, chairman of the special committee, made a brief address, after which President Orr called the meeting to order.

The painting is by Daniel Huntington.
It was placed in the main hall of the Chamber, against the wall, directly opposite the President's desk. It is about ten feet long and six feet high, and is in a massive gilt frame.

It shows the projectors of the Atlantic cable gathered around a table, on which are maps and diagrams.

Cyrus W. Field is in the foreground to the right, his body and hand pointing to a map on the table. At the left in an arm chair sits Peter Cooper, and directly behind him, David Dudley Field. The other projectors are seated or standing around the table.

President Orr, after a letter from Chief Justice Field, Dr. Chauncey M.
Depew, who is in the foreground, made a brief address, after which President Orr
called the meeting to order.

He referred to Field and his associates in the cable enterprise, telling briefly of their life from boyhood, how they were fitted by their experience in business and their personal traits of character to undertake the great work of the cable.

He referred to the several attempts to lay the cable, describing the difficulties and personal experiences of the projectors and their several failures as a success seemed well in hand.

GIANTS IN THE SPIDERS' WEB.

New York's First Encounter of the League Season with Cleveland.

"CY" YOUNG'S CURVES TO FACE

Amos Rusie To Try and Lift the Team Out of Sixth Place in the Race.

LITTLE TIME FOR PRACTICE.

Capt. Davis and His Men Had Ridden All Night and All Morning Coming from St. Louis.

(From The Evening World's Special Correspondent with the Team.)

BASEBALL PARK, CLEVELAND, O., May 23.—After a long, tiresome ride of all night and all morning the Giants arrived in this city at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Partaking of a hasty noonday meal, they hurried out to the baseball grounds to do battle with Patsy Tebeau's coterie of pennant aspirants.

It was the first time this season that the team have met and played with more than anxious to have the opening series go to their credit. The Cleveland Club was holding down fourth place in the League race, while by winning two straight from "Der Prowse" the Gothamites have put themselves in sixth place, and have now few points behind the leaders, Boston.

If Capt. Davis's men beat the Cleve-landers in the series they will go home well up in the first flight.

Amos Rusie, whose seductive shoots and curves have nearly always been disastrous to the Spiders' cause, put forth his best this afternoon, while "Cy" Young did the twirling for his team.

The weather was simply perfect for the National game, but the attendance was not as large as it might have been, not more than 2,000 people being present.

NINE M'LAUGHLIN JURORS.

Justice Pratt Will Not Interfere Further in His Case.

Counsel for Police Inspector William W. McLaughlin this morning made a second, but ineffectual attempt to delay his second trial for extortion, by agitating an application for a stay to Justice Pratt, of the Supreme Court, in Brooklyn.

Deputy Assistant District Attorney Battie and Lawyer E. A. McCall, representing McLaughlin, by mutual agreement, appeared before Justice Pratt.
Mr. Battie asked Justice Pratt to vacate his own stay, granted last week.
He recited the facts attending the vacation of the stay by Justice Ingraham, and said he was ready to present the records connected with the vacation.
He declared that the stay was now defunct.

Mr. McCall objected. He said that Justice Pratt's stay was perfectly regular and that there was no reason for him to rescind his own action.

Justice Pratt told the lawyers that he would take no action on the matter.
He took the position that Justice Ingraham's action had already made the stay void, and he declined to have anything further to do with the case.

The fourth day of the trial of Inspector McLaughlin opened this morning in the Court of Oyer and Terminer with the jury box two-thirds full. Eight jurymen in four days seems quick work for the McLaughlin jury-getting, but none of the jurors in the box has yet been sworn, and it is quite possible that all, or nearly all, of the eight may be challenged by one side or the other.

Another panel of two hundred tal-emen was summoned for this morning, but only 125 answered, and nearly seven-eights of these sought to be excused.

It was 11:15 o'clock before the examination of talemens began in the Court of Oyer and Terminer.

Of the first ten talemens examined, not one proved satisfactory, and not one was accepted for the jury up to noon.

(Special to The Evening World.) RACON TRACK, GRAYSON, May 23.—Between 2,000 and 3,000 persons were at the track this afternoon, an excellent showing considering that the programme was not especially attractive, and that there was no open betting. Those speculating inclined had no difficulty in making a wager.

The fair sex was present in large numbers. The weather was about as perfect for racing purposes as one could wish for, in fact, it was the first fine day of the meeting.

The track was in perfect condition, all traces of Tuesday's storm having disappeared.

When seen at the track to-day Charley Dwyer stated that his father had only ordered him to ship Prince George and Armitage, adding that they would not be sent for a week or so yet.

Starter Mary got a length's advantage at the start, but Vernberg and Jack of Spades made a strong effort to get into the turn. There Jack of Spades took command and held it until well into the stretch, when he was overtaken and won by a head. Starter Mary was third, two lengths away. Time—1:14.
